A Short Coat.

No. 2904.—The charm of the short, smart Eton jacket is altogether out of proportion to its size, and the small, these garments are the more irresistible to do seem. The model pictured is a dressy little affair for afternoon wear.

wear which can be worn separate or combined with a skirt of the same material. Black broadcloth, with collar, revers and cavalier cuffs of white moire, is a charming suggestion for this coat. A narrow silk braid may be used as additional trimming, and a deep fall of lace is a soft finish to the sleeve. Two shades of green, dull blue and black, and brown relieved by a shade of tan, are color-schemes which will recommend themselves to the individual woman. The material required is 3 1/2 yards of material 44 inches wide.

Pattern No. 2904: 5 sizes from 32 to 40 inches bust.

A New Design in Redingote Effect.

No. 2905.—The Redingote vies in popularity with the short blouse jacket, and the pattern illustrated will do for either model by simply using or discarding the long Redingote skirts. Broad plaits give a stunning shoulder effect and a pointed hand which can be omitted.

2905

Forms a natty collar and holds in place the revers that roll back from the trim vest. A fancy cuff terminates the full bishop sleeve. If used for a traveling wrap this model may be made in a light weight silk or seersucker. For general wear it will prove stunning made in broadcloth, covert, cheviot, panama cloth or taffetas. For a medium size 4 yards of 56-inch material are needed.

No. 2930 in 5 sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust.

A Neat Separate Blouse.

No. 2986.—Every woman knows the value of a pretty odd waist when she wants to appear neatly gowned. This is an article of apparel which gives the finishing touch to her gowning, and while it may be dressy or plain it must be becoming. The blouse shown was developed in white Rajah, with yoke and cuffs of Irish lace. The point mo-if appearing in the yoke is further carried out in the cuffs. The pattern for this waist is quite simple, and the most inexperienced dressmaker may fashion with success. The sleeve may be finished with a frill of lace instead of the cuff and the neck made in Dutch round outline if a dressy waist is desired. Any soft silk or wooden fabric as well as mull will serve as material. The medium size requires 2 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

2986

No. 2986: 5 sizes, 32 to 40 inches bust.

Any one, or all, of the above patterns will be promptly mailed, postpaid, upon receipt of 10 cents for each pattern. Each number represents a separate pattern. Give size, number, name and address. It is not necessary to write a note if the following coupon is properly filled out.

A Delightful Morning Gown.

No. 3082.—There is a fascination about a pretty morning gown which few other garments possess. It is a garment loose and comfortable, easily slipped on and off, not difficult to fashion and the embodiment of grace and becomingness. The model portrayed has as its most striking feature the deep-shaped collar. The gown is shirred on the shoulders and crosses in surplice fashion. A chemise or shield may finish the neck if warmth is desired. The sleeve is loose and flowing or finished with a narrow cuff in bishop style. The fulness in back is held in shirrs at the waist line, and may be belted with a giraffe if desired. Challis, cashmere, or of the Oriental silks or a lawn may serve as material. In the medium size the pattern requires 8 1/2 yards of 36-inch material.

No. 3082: sizes 32 to 42 inches bust.

A Smart Jacket Bodice.

No. 2909.—Surely there was never a more popular garment than some form of the separate coat. And there is good reason for its popularity, as it can be worn with almost any gown and is always pretty. It can be plain or fancy, warm or light-weight to suit Milady's varying needs. The jaunty little wrap here shown possesses an individual style by reason of its flat, round neck and the slight lap-over in waistcoat form. The sleeve, too, is a good one, the puff being met at the elbow by a deep, close-fitting cuff, while at the wrist there is a flaring turnover cuff. This will develop in melton, cheviot, covert or broadcloth. The pattern requires 3 1/2 yards of 44-inch material in the medium size.

No. 2909 in 6 sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust.

A Good School Dress.

No. 3053.—The school girl may have shirred waists and the older girls and women are very practical and easily made. Here is a suggestion for the mother who makes her children's clothes. The little plaid skirt is box-plated.

Col. Urell is Past Commander-in-Chief of the Spanish War Veterans. He is also Past Commander of the Department of the Potomac, G.A.R., and is a civil war Medal-of-Honor man.

The National Committee on Legislation of the United Spanish War Veterans, of which Capt. E. E. Kirk, of San Francisco, is Chairman, and Capt. J. Walter Mitchell, of Washington, D. C., Secretary, are already receiving communications concerning prospective legislation from all parts of the country. A recent communication came from the Commander-in-Chief of the Spanish War Veterans, Mr. Miller, of Cleveland, O., inclosing a bill for introduction to Congress which was prepared by J. A. Driscoll, of Springfield, Mass., and provides for the retirement of enlisted men of the Army, and requires the Government "hereafter in computing the required period of service for the retirement of enlisted men of the Army that all service during the War with Spain shall be counted double."

Steps are being taken to form a new Camp of Spanish War Veterans at Charleston, S. C. It is said several new camps will be organized in the South Atlantic States during the coming winter.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

Notes Concerning the Order—President Roosevelt an Active Member—The Next Encampment.

The Council of Administration of the United Spanish War Veterans at its First Session will be called upon to fix a day in October, 1906, upon which the next Annual Encampment will be held at Washington, D. C. The date was left open to suit the convenience of President Roosevelt, who is an active member of the organization. Capt. William E. English, of Indianapolis, Ind., who will continue in office as Commander-in-Chief until Jan. 1, next, will be succeeded by Maj. Charles R. Miller, of Cleveland, O., who will communicate with the President upon his return from Oyster Bay and invite him to attend the Encampment, at the same time requesting that he designate a day in October that will be convenient for him to be present.

In connection with the coming Encampment the story is being told of how Col. Roosevelt became an active member of the organization of Spanish War Veterans. When first asked to connect himself with the Association, it is said, the President declined to do so. National organizations of soldiers of the War with Spain had combined in one grand body.

At that time there were three bodies, known as the Spanish War Veterans, the Spanish-American War Veterans and the Service Men of the Spanish War. Steps were taken to bring about the amalgamation of the three bodies. Negotiations hung fire for a long time, until Col. Harold S. McGrew, of Indianapolis, Commander of the Spanish War Veterans, Capt. William E. English, also of Indianapolis, Commander of the Spanish-American War Veterans, and Gen. Moulton, of Chicago, Commander of the Service Men, finally got together at what is known as "the Indianapolis Conference."

It was a case of "give and take" on all sides of the triangular session of the Commanders, the principles of each being to bring about the union of the three associations "at all hazards," as Col. McGrew expressed it.

The combination was finally arranged, and from it was born the present National body—the United Spanish War Veterans. By the terms of the amalgamation agreement Col. Harold S. McGrew became the first Commander-in-Chief. Remembering the intimation of President Roosevelt that he might join the Association after the union of the Associations had been effected, Maj. McGrew came to Washington. He called on the President at the White House, with the result that Col. Roosevelt gave his consent to become an active member of the organization.

In a ceremony was performed by Commander-in-Chief McGrew in the President's office, and at its conclusion he placed on the lapel of the coat of the distinguished "recipient" a badge which is termed, a bronze cross of the Spanish War Veterans and one of the distinctive badges of the Order. Thus McGrew became the first active member of the soldier organization.

The Department of the District of Columbia, Spanish War Veterans, is making advance arrangements for the Annual Encampment to be held in Washington next year. A committee has been appointed, with Col. M. Ernest Urell as Chairman, to prepare thousands of pictorial calendars, giving instructions and details of the coming convention. Copies of the calendars will be sent to all the Camps in this country and those in Hawaii and the Philippines.

ARMY AND NAVY-UNION.

The Biennial Encampment at Newburgh, N. Y.

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The Biennial Encampment of the Army and Navy Union held its concluding session in this city last night. Like the Spanish War Veterans at their recent Encampment at Milwaukee, Wis., the members of the Army and Navy Union paid deserved homage to the grim old veterans of the civil war, whose ranks are growing thin because of advancing years. One of the grateful tributes paid the fighters of the '60's was the election of one of their number as National Commander of the Army and Navy Union, to serve two years.

The new Commander is Col. J. Edwin Browne, formerly Commander-in-Chief of the United Veteran Legion, and Past Colonel of the Encampment at Washington, D. C. Col. Browne also stands high in the Masonic fraternity, being 32nd Degree Scottish Rite Mason, and is a member of the G.A.R.

The other National officers elected are: Senior Vice Commander, Edward Stroebel, Albany, N. Y.; Junior Vice Commander, C. V. Auger, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Adjutant-General, John Schumacher, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Inspector-General, Edward E. Adams, Jersey City, N. J.; Judge-Advocate-General, J. D. Cluet, Buffalo, N. Y.; National Chaplain, Rev. J. P. Chidwell, U. S. District Court, New York.

The decision was reached to hold the next Biennial Encampment in the Fall of 1907, at Washington, D. C. A resolution was unanimously adopted concluding session congratulating President Roosevelt on the appointment of Mr. Oscar J. Ricketts as Public Printer for term, and expressing the hope that the President in his wisdom would make the appointment permanent. The Acting Public Printer was referred to in the resolutions as "the soldiers' friend."

Other matters acted favorably upon were the establishment of a more capacious and modern temporary Soldiers' Home at Arlington, where the soldiers of the civil and Spanish war can be accommodated without cost to them when they go to the Capital City on business, for a non-amphitheater and the Arlington Soldiers' Home National Soldiers' Cemetery, and for the establishment of a Museum of War at Washington.

The proposed consolidation of the Army and Navy Union with the Regular Army and Navy Union was considered, but no final decision was reached in the matter.

The Army and Navy Union was founded March 3, 1888, at Cincinnati, O., where Gen. George Washington Garrison, No. 1, was instituted as the first Commander-in-Chief. The organization's purpose is to bring about the amalgamation of the three bodies, known as the Spanish War Veterans, the Spanish-American War Veterans and the Service Men of the Spanish War.

Steps were taken to bring about the amalgamation of the three bodies. Negotiations hung fire for a long time, until Col. Harold S. McGrew, of Indianapolis, Commander of the Spanish War Veterans, Capt. William E. English, also of Indianapolis, Commander of the Spanish-American War Veterans, and Gen. PENSION POINTERS.

Inquiries Answered and Suggestions Made.

C. A. F. Calhoun, Ill.—If the widow mentioned was the wife of the soldier during his service, and pensioned under the general law, her name being dropped because of remarriage, she will have title to restoration under the Act of March 3, 1901, if her income is less than $250 per year.

Reader, Tampa, Fla.—The Pension Bureau holds that a rejected claim can be reopened at any time on proper evidence filed by the soldier, his widow or any other person who succeeds to his rights.

E. L. Hartford, Conn.—It is the practice of the Department not to disturb cases adjudicated by another administration unless a glaring error or manifest injustice is apparent from the evidence.

J. G. Saginaw, Mich.—As soldier's enlistment was in January, 1866, he will have to prove that he actually aided in the suppression of the Confederate forces before he will have a pensionable status under the act of June 27, 1890.

Anxious.—Marriage to a soldier subsequent to the passage of the act of June 27, 1890, is a bar to pension under that act. Date of marriage is no factor in a claim for pension under the general law.
